Update for the summer

Just a little update to let you all know what's been going on here at PGRV. We have been very busy making some improvements that we hope you will all like. The landscaping is, as always, an ongoing project. We finally got something behind the newly remodeled bathrooms, so no more mud and yuk. We have been working on a Bocce Ball court, but I'm not sure we will have enough room; we are still considering it though. There is a fence around the storage area; which should help with the view for some of you. We have added more rock, I know some of you may not like all the rock; from a maintenance issue it has been extremely helpful; it really isn't all that bad to look at. The weather here has been very hot and humid. We have had a lot of rain this year; hence the hurricane season, so we have had A LOT of mowing to do here. We have made some improvements to the back bathrooms as well. We had a major leak so we had to tear out the old plumbing and put in new, so while we were at it we put in a new shower and put down some new tile for all the bathrooms. Hope you folks in the back of the park like it. In May we had a Cinco de Mayo party. We had Margaritas and taco's. We had about 60 people here to help us eat all the food we had. Everyone had a great time. The 50/50 winner was Dick Riel. The end of May brought us Memorial Day, we decided to have a party! We had a BBQ, the standard things like hamburgers and brats; everyone else brought the side dishes. We all had a great time remembering why we are here and the sacrifices some of our veterans had to make.

The 4th of July was our next party and of course we had the standard BBQ, with everyone bringing all the great dishes that go along with hamburgers and brats. We are not sure what our next party will bring us. We have had one "Dine-Out" so far this year with Lindy and Joel Schindler being the gracious hosts, they went to Riviera Oyster Bar. We still have a lot of things I would like to see get done before season starts; if that happens great, if not; there is always next year. The park is quiet this year. We have had a lot of summer campers. The ones that usually are here all year long are not as many. I guess they can't take the heat! This is all I have to tell you for now, I hope your summer has been all you expected, we look forward to you visit this winter, we miss you!
